Tips for Success

Make it Personal: Share Your Why

People love to hear about what others are passionate about. Share with your friends, family, coworkers, about why you are fundraising and why they should help support your fundraising efforts.

Use Your Phone

Call, text, FaceTime, direct message, Snapchat, or try any other way you connect with your friends via your phone – Need an idea?

“ Hi [Name], hope you are doing well! I am currently fundraising for Orlando Health in support of their mission of providing compassionate care. Would you like to help me fundraise and make a donation in support of life-saving care for individuals and families in the Central Florida community? I appreciate your time! ## Connect to Your Network

How do you get the word out to your friends, family, coworkers, neighbors, or classmates about your fundraiser? One way you can build engagement is by tagging people in a post on social media and celebrating them when they donate to your fundraiser.

Define a Reachable Goal

It all starts with a goal. It's important to make an attainable goal that still challenges you. Decide for yourself based on the various factors of your fundraiser, such as your timeframe and network. Remember, if you reach your goal early, you can always bump it up to further your impact!

Make it Tangible

People see more of a reason to give when they are able to see their donation tangibly. This could be as simple as asking people to skip their morning coffee out or breakfast run to donate the $5-$10 to your fundraiser.
